

In partnership with licensed mental health clinicians in private practice throughout the United States, Open Path Psychotherapy Collective provides middle and lower-income level individuals, couples, families, and children with access to affordable psychotherapy and mental health education services.

How Open Path Connects You with Clients

Search. A client locates an Open Path therapist in their area then submits an application and a one-time membership fee of $59.

Connect. If the Open Path therapist has availability, she/he sees the client for $30 - 60 per session, which is paid directly to the therapist.

Schedule. The Open Path client and therapist's relationship is identical to any other client in the therapist's caseload. The only difference is the fee scale.

There are no fees whatsoever for participating Open Path therapist members.

Who Can Apply?

You must be a licensed or provisionally licensed (Pre-Licensed/License Eligible) mental health clinician with a graduate degree in psychotherapy, counseling, or a related field from an accredited institution. You must also pass our peer-reviewed online application process and show proof of liability insurance.
